Action des solidarités urgente à Montréal avec les agriculteurs? Haïti le vendredi 4 juin

Union Paysanne, Action SOS Haïti et le Réseau Canadien? Actions sur les Biotechnologies appellent la population de Montréal à se retrouver devant le Consulat Général de Haïti afin d'exprimer leur solidarité avec les organisations haïtiennes d'agriculteurs qui refusent la donation de Monsanto de semences de maïs hybride. Les paysans haïtiens marcheront le vendredi 4 juin à Haïti et demandent aux groupes de par le monde de « lutter contre Monsanto et ses complices en Haïti ».

DATE: le vendredi 4 juin 2010
HEURE: 10h du matin
LIEU: 1100, Boul. René Lévesque Ouest (Au coin de René Lévesque et Peel-Station Bonaventure)

C'est une action de solidarité symbolique. Une délégation de livraison au neletreau Consulat d'Haïti en guise de soutien face à la cause des agriculteurs.

L'appel à cette action de solidarité a été réalisé par le Mouvement Paysan de Papaye (MPP) avec les soutiens de La Via Campesina. Plus d'informations ci-dessous. (ou rendez-vous sur www.rcab.ca/Monsanto ou encore www.viacampesina.org)

There is stark disagreement on how to assess the safety of Monsanto's trait GM corn called SmartStax? Health Canada did not assess SmartStax? corn for human health safety because it does not classify SmartStax? as a Novel Food? - this is because they have already approved the eight GM traits individually in separate crops.

Does Health Canada need to assess the safety of this stacked trait GM food? Is Health Canada contradicting the UN International Codex food safety guideline?
